Competitiveness Test Enon Exchange

Step A

A minimum of 75% of the households in the telephone exchange area can choose residential telephone service from among at least two (2) competitors to Verizon

This test is met by a number of competitors, including Alltel, AT&T Wireless, nTelos Wireless, Sprint Wireless, and T-Mobile Wireless (see Attachment A – Enon).

Step B

A minimum of two (2) of the competitors to Verizon in part “A” must offer residential local telephone service that may be purchased by the residential customer without a corresponding requirement to purchase non-telecommunications services (e.g., video or broadband internet service) from that competitor

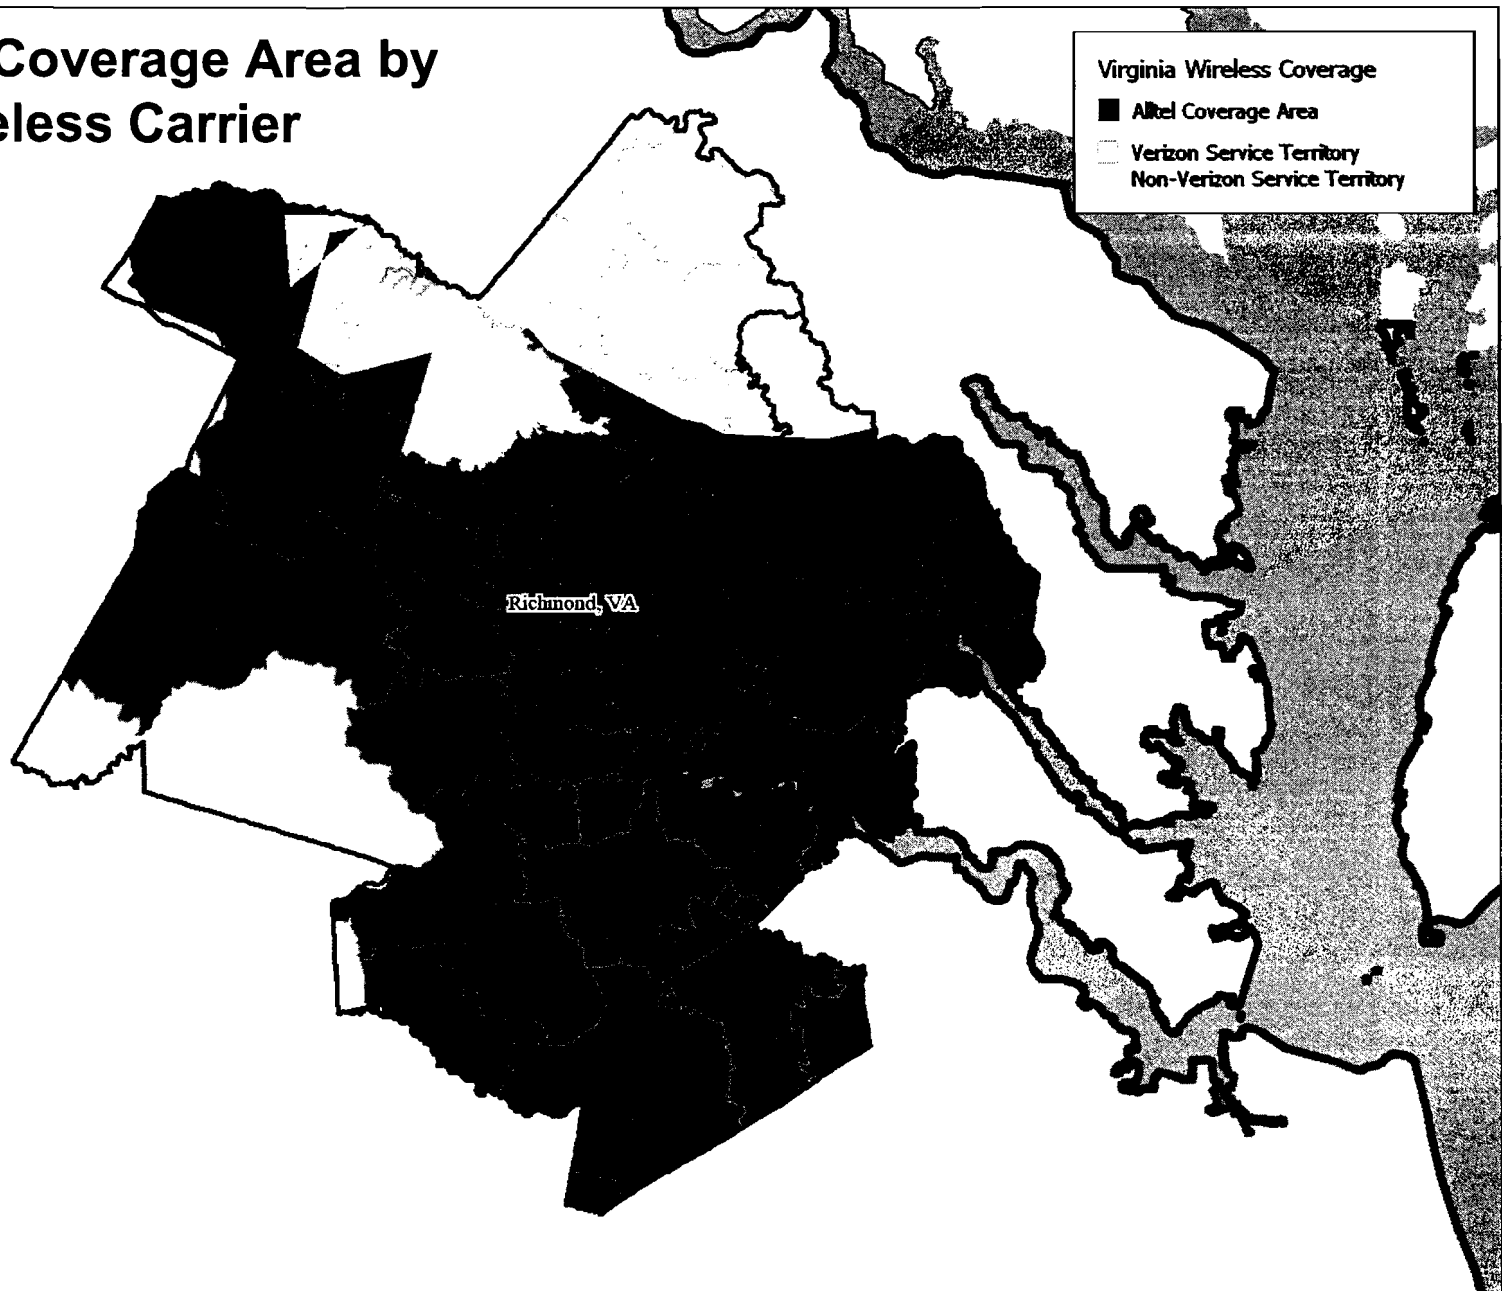

This test is met by a number of competitors, including Alltel, AT&T Wireless, nTelos Wireless, Sprint Wireless, and T-Mobile Wireless (see Attachment A – Enon).

Step C

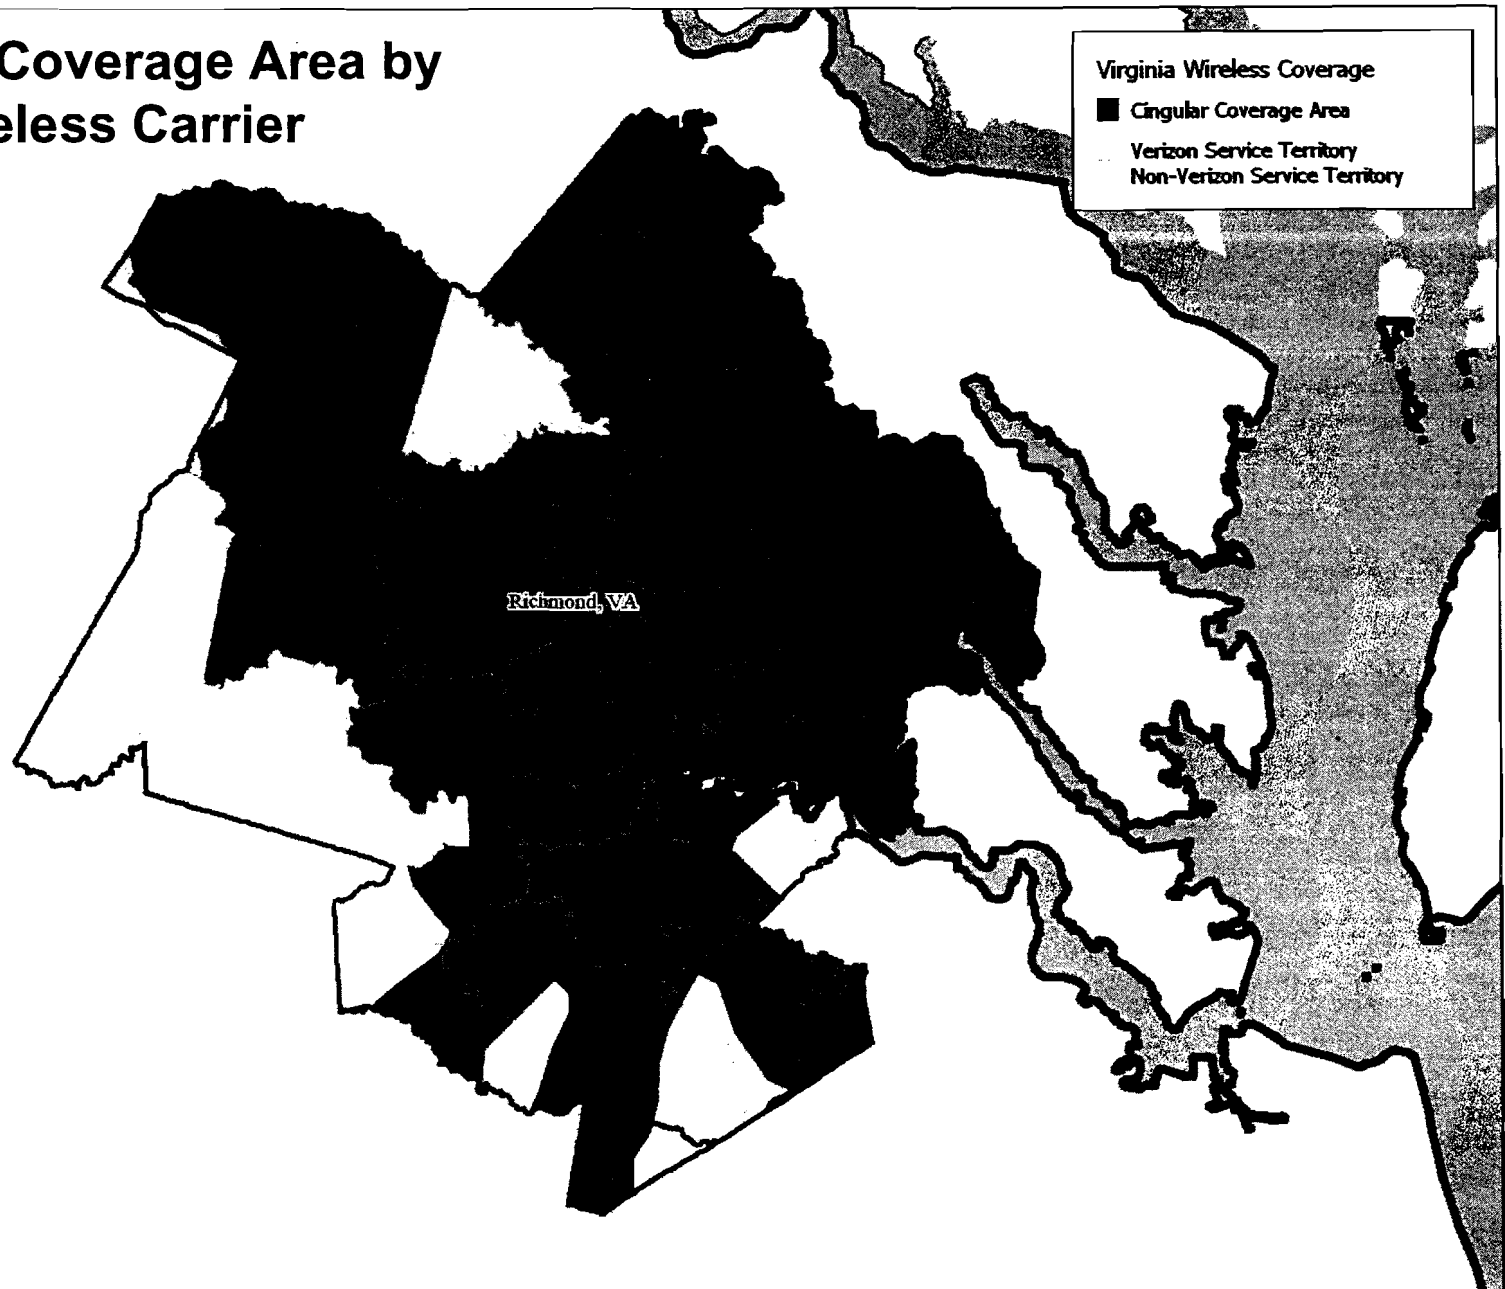

At least 50% of the households in the telephone exchange area can choose a facilities-based competitor that owns its own wireline network facilities

This test is met by Comcast. Verizon sampled households in the Enon exchange, and determined that at least 50% of the households in these exchanges have the option of selecting voice service from Comcast. This is supported by information readily available through Comcast Websites and promotional materials.
