2079	UNITED	01/11/2000	02/12/2000	ACCESS TARIFF: This filing clarifies language and makes minor procedural changes to the benefit of the customer. The filing not only eliminates the requirement for written notification when verbal notice has been provided in the Cancellation of an Access Order, but also defines the service dates applicable to processing those cancellations. Additionally, the application of changes for Additional Labor has been revised to reflect a minimum charge for three hours rather than four hours for additional labor resulting from call out of a telephone company employee. This filing also includes minor corrections in text that are denoted as text changes. Since the Maintenance of Service rates mirror the Additional Labor standby rates, the separate listing of these rates for Maintenance of Service has been eliminated. This revision references Additional Labor standby rates as the applicable rates for Maintenance of Service. This does not change the rates that are applied for Maintenance of Service - Sections 5 and 13.
2080	CENTEL	01/11/2000	02/12/2000	ACCESS TARIFF: This filing clarifies language and makes minor procedural changes to the benefit of the customer. No rates are changing as a result of this filing. An option for the customer to cancel a Facilities Order has been added. Presently, the tariff requires requests for cancellation to be in written form whereas the proposed language offers a customer the opportunity to provide verbal notice. These revisions also define the service dates applicable to processing those cancellations. This filing also includes minor corrections in text that are denoted as text changes. Language associated with the Maintenance of Service charge has been clarified and explicitly states charges have been eliminated for Maintenance of Service half-hour rates. Maintenance of Service rates mirrored the Additional Labor standby rates. This revision references Additional Labor standby rate as the applicable rates for Maintenance of Service. This does not change the rates that are applied for Maintenance of Service. Therefore, this charge is not revenue impacting - Sections 8 and 9.
